

Act Against Torture Presents
"Ghosts of Abu Ghraib",
a powerful film by Rory Kennedy

Also hear about the case of the San Francisco 8 and the fight to close Abu Ghraib & Guantanamo and to end
indefinite detention and torture

Thursday, October 18, 7:00 p.m.

Mudraker's Café

2801 Telegraph Avenue (@ Stuart), Berkeley

Free, donations requested to benefit the SF8

Good food and fair trade coffee available cheap

This groundbreaking film, made for HBO, asks the questions "How did torture become an accepted practice at Abu Ghraib? How could ordinary American soldiers come to engage in such monstrous acts?" Kennedy interviews both soldiers who participated and Iraqis who endured the torture.

Torture in United States jails is not new. 34 years ago, murder charges against three members of the Black Panther Party were dismissed because their confessions to killing a San Francisco cop were obtained through torture. But now, eight Black elders are on trial for the same 1971 killing, based on the same torture-produced "evidence." Richard Brown of the SF8, freed on bail after eight months in SF County Jail, will join us to talk about their case and how it relates to the torture at Abu Ghraib and other U.S. facilities.

For information:
www.ActAgainstTorture.org
ActAgainstTorture@riseup.net

Act Against Torture Presents
"Ghosts of Abu Ghraib",
a powerful film by Rory Kennedy

Also hear about the case of the San Francisco 8 and the fight to close Abu Ghraib & Guantanamo and to end
indefinite detention and torture

Thursday, October 18, 7:00 p.m.

Mudraker's Café

2801 Telegraph Avenue (@ Stuart), Berkeley

Free, donations requested to benefit the SF8

Good food and fair trade coffee available cheap

This groundbreaking film, made for HBO, asks the questions "How did torture become an accepted practice at Abu Ghraib? How could ordinary American soldiers come to engage in such monstrous acts?" Kennedy interviews both soldiers who participated and Iraqis who endured the torture.

Torture in United States jails is not new. 34 years ago, murder charges against three members of the Black Panther Party were dismissed because their confessions to killing a San Francisco cop were obtained through torture. But now, eight Black elders are on trial for the same 1971 killing, based on the same torture-produced "evidence." Richard Brown of the SF8, freed on bail after eight months in SF County Jail, will join us to talk about their case and how it relates to the torture at Abu Ghraib and other U.S. facilities.

For information:
www.ActAgainstTorture.org
ActAgainstTorture@riseup.net

